requirements to $24,080,075. A contributory influence in inducing dulness was the fact that it was a holiday on the London Stock Exchange, which will not reopen until Tuesday morning. There were a few upward movements in special stocks. North American and Mexican Central both advanced on the understanding that strong financial interests had taken over blocks of these stocks from firms which failed in the recent market smash. Consolidated Gas moved up on a small volume of business. There was no particular explanation for its special strength. As in the case of a number of other highpriced investment issues, there was excellent buying of this stock at the recent low levels and its floating supply in the market is limited. Though there were exceptions, most of the leading issues closed at small net losses compared with yesterday's final quotations and the closing tone could be diagnosed as heavy. The bears appeared to have abandoned, at any rate for the time, their campaign against the Atchison shares. Of the speculative markets that in wheat to-day showed the most activity, with the leading deliveries advancing in Chicago above 80 cents a bust el after the stock market here had closed, the upward movement being based on unfavorable crop advices from the Northwestern States. Corn was firm in sympathy. There was little feature to the speculation in cotton, that market closing quiet, with the price changes insignificant.

GOSSIP OF WALL STREET.

Those of the Western Wall Street contingent whose crop opinions are most respected are generally pessimistic about the harvest. They agree upon a 60 per cent. corn crop and hold views about the spring wheat yield that are none too sauguine. A prominent Western grain expert who visited Wall Street yesterday said the wheat yield on his 12,000. acre farm in North Dakota will be only from 8 to 10 bushels this year as compared with 22 bushels per acre last year. All of the critical Western advices now being received here are bullish on grain, hence the increase of speculative interest on the part of the Western element both in corn and wheat.

Soon after the appearance of the bank statement yesterday the out-of-town correspondents of Wall Street wire houses be-gan to ask for explanations of the loan expansion. Many contradictory explanations were offered, but some candidly confessed that they were at a loss for reasons, saying abnormal conditions alone could account for the failure of bank loans to reflect the tremendous liquidation that has occurred in the stock market.

W. B. Mack has been a large buyer of Mexican Central.

Brokers and traders compromised privately last week more losses resulting from the confusion that attended the three failures than were referred to the Exchange authorities for adjustment. Some of these losses were heavy. They arose from the misreading of orders, the inability of the suspender firms to receive stock bought for their ac count, misunderstandings between memberand blunders on the part of clerks. Disputeare still pending some of which will have to be decided by the governors, but as a rule members between whom differences existed have settled them according to their own ideas of fair dealing. Really serious disputes have been remarkably rare, everything considered. One error on the part of a broker especially a two-dollar man, often wipes out the commissions of a whole month or more Some members suffered losses for which the were in no way responsible. One trader for example, sold 500 Mexican Central to W. L. Stow & Co. and borrowed the stock from Edwin S. Hooley & Co. Stow & Co. were unable to accept delivery of the stock and it could not be returned to the firm from which it was borrowed.

Harris, Gates & Co. have opened a branch office at Saratoga.

A good many Wall Street people who postponed their summer vacation because they were afraid to leave the market will be going away as soon as they can feel reason ably certain that their interests will not suffer in their absence. It is expected, therefore, that a return of normal market conditions will mark the beginning of a general exodu-of brokers and traders. One very prominent banker has already set the example, tardily departing for a vacation with the announce ment that, in his opinion, the market may safely be left to take care of itself. Others are preparing to follow him. The indications are that in order to catch up with its vacations the stock market community will have make out with a very thin attendance for the remainder of the summer, that is if speculation should become as uneventful as man market critics expect.

Commission houses did practically nothing in the short session yesterday. Just before the bank statement appeared, brokers representing five large firms compared not and found that between them they had no transacted a single order. Trading was almost wholly professional. During the firs hour traders went around the room taking on small lines of stock here and there and then bidding up the price against other traders who were short, scalping eighths and quarters by the operation. Fluctuations in general were significant of nothing more than this.

Those of the room crowd who were at al bearishly inclined carried short contracts it would be very difficult to open the marke up on Monday morning after such a bank statement and with no London market through which to influence sentiment. The general short interest was thought to have increased. There was a more active de-mand for stocks in the loan department. particularly New York Central, Canadian Pacific and Atchison. The stubbornnesof the short interest in New York Central is using a good deal of comment. Efforts to intimidate it have failed completely, and the impression grows that it must be ver strong. The trading element is loyal to the short side of Atchison.

Chairman Talbert is absent on a two-weeks racation, and the Stock Exchange sessions are being opened and closed by an employee

Northern Securities shares were bid ut sharply on the curb on early information of the Minnesota decision favoring the corporation. A small short interest has abided Co. were heavy sellers last week, their trans actions being estimated at 15,000 shares Some of the recent selling is supposed to have been for the account of Talbot J. Taylor & Co. The market took the stock in a man ner that called forth favorable comment

The selling of United States Realty shares especially the preferred, was so conspicue last week as to divert attention from the buying. F. T. Adams & Co. were the prin cipal buyers, taking in all about 14,000 share of both classes of stock. Although Harris. Gates & Co. were identified with the formation of the United States Realty and Con struction Company, John W. Gates being a director, their selling last week for som reason was generally believed to be shor selling, based upon information that the forthcoming statement would be an unfavorable exhibit. Realty shares have been receiving a lot of bearish attention lately, but nobody has cared to sell them short without knowing first where the stock could be bor rowed. There are only a few places where it can be borrowed.

toward the end of last week was illustrate by the experience of a trader who on Frida last went into the Atchison crowd and founfive or six other traders selling the stock down He took 500 shares, then 300 at a fractions advance and the selling halted. Two o three 100-share lots more seemed to clear up the floating supply, whereupon this on trader unassisted bid the price up 1 per cent and sold out. Wall Street intently guessin meanwhile what the sharp rally in Atchise meant. Many of the abrupt price move ments seen last week were quite as meaning less as that one was. The Atchison inciden however, is of peculiar interest because the stock had been under liquidating pressure for several days, its decline affecting the entire market unfavorably. It was a ver surprising thing, therefore, that one trade could go in and advance the price I per cent with only 1,000 shares of stock and make so clean a turn of it. Similar condition existed in various other stocks.

FINANCIAL NOTES.

The banking house of Fisk & Robinson has just issued the August number of it monthly investment bulletin, listing in vestments and including other information such as the net returns on Government band such as the net returns on Government bunds and savings bank securities. It also give interesting data regarding the Buffalo and Susquehanna Railroad, the Buffalo and Set quehanna Iron Company, the Gulf and Shij Island Railroad and the Louisiana and Ar kansas Railroad.

Business Troubles.

Carl Rosenfeld, who is a partner of Josep Magid, in business under the name of the Magid, in business under the name of the Paris Suspender Company, at 5 Walkerstreet, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, is which Mr. Magid refused to join.

A creditors petition in bankruptcy has been filed against Abraham Siotnick, manufacturer of suspenders at 80 Orchard street. Creditors of John H. Mueller, dealer in masons materials at Third avenue and 120th street, and of Louis Levin, manufacturer of women's underclothing, at 119 Bleocker street, have been unable to find them, and have obtained orders from Judge Adams of the United States District Court to serve sum monses in bankruptcy proceedings by publication.
